

OLDER

Remodelista Architect/Designer Directory Bedroom Roundup by Christine Chang Hanway

NEWER

Issue 54 · Bedrooms · January 8, 2013

The bedroom is the most personal space in a home (and potentially the most luxurious, if sleep is a priority). In this roundup of bedrooms from the Remodelista Architect/Designer Directory, we visit a range of approaches. For some architects and designers, it's about the purity of the space, where the architecture takes the top note; for others, it's more about the soft finishes and the actual art of making a good bed. To see more spaces, visit the Bedroom Gallery on the Remodelista Architect/Designer Directory.

Above: The corner of the master bathroom is visible from the master bedroom, allowing both rooms to take advantage of the natural daylight which streams through the windows of this Fifth Avenue loft by Murphy, Burnham & Buttrick Architects. We particularly like the way the stone from the bathtub forms the nightstand. Photo by Peter Aaron/Esto.